getting closer to northern

After plenty of deliberation you've zeroed in on ONU

One of the most exciting experiences for a freshman is Move-In Day. Eight hundred new faces arrived at Ohio Northern on September 1st to begin their college careers. Freshman Psychology major Richard Frigo thought to herself, "Oh my gosh! I'm in college now and everything is going to be so different."

New students and parents did not need to go through the big move alone. University faculty, staff, Residence Life, and upperclassmen assisted the newcomers by guiding them to the correct dormitories and unloading their belongings. Executive Assistant to the President Bill Robinson estimated that about fifty faculty and staff members helped students move in. "There is great anticipation on the part of both the freshmen and parents," said Robinson. "We attempt to meet and greet them in a happy mode that sort of breaks the ice."

Residence Life staff and upperclassmen were also there to make newcomers feel more at home. Management major and 3 University Park Way/Northern House resident assistant Jessica Johnson said that Move-In Day "felt all too familiar." Johnson was glad that "after being in RA training the entire previous week, I felt ready for the freshmen to get here to answer any questions and help them move in."

The student group Helping Everyone Learn Personal Service, or H.E.L.P.S., sported green shirts with "Your Issues Are Our Burden" written on the back to show their commitment to the newcomers. "When I was a freshman, I was really surprised and appreciative of having people help with my belongings," Fy H.E.L.P.S. member Adam Ritter explained, "It felt good to know I could pass that feeling onto others."

In the end, getting closer to Northern proved to be an exciting experience for most. Helpful faculty and friendly upperclassmen helped freshmen and their parents transition smoothly into a new chapter of their lives.

Far Left: Rita Webb, Bethany Jay and fellow residence-staff members read the signs in table for new comers to ONU.

Far Right: Sigma Epsilon member Derek Williams transfers new students' belongings.

Joining again in a brand new place, with brand new people can be overwhelming for a freshman. Welcome Fest is just one of the many activities Ohio Northern University hosts to ease the transition of the students into their new college life. The hope is that Ohio Northern will become a second home to all freshmen and transfer students as it already has become for the returning classes.

Welcome Fest is normally hosted outside on the track and along with a very large tent. However, in Ohio Northern's constant strive to promote perfection Welcome Fest was held in the High House in King Harris. The excess number of tables, and the air-conditioned building, and the dry floor made this experience the best in years.

Every club interested in acquiring new members signs up to have a table at Welcome Fest. Then, it is up to the club members to have posters advertising the group, and a sign up list. Many groups have made use of the goodies to give away. This shower of free gifts is the favorite part of freshmen orientation for all students.

Christina Wiebke, a senior biology major, said that "sitting at the table is a great way to get people interested in my group." The tables allow group members to personally interact with individuals and raise interest in their group. Students interested in the club gets the names and e-mail on a sign up list, and they are sent e-mails for when and where that group meets. A freshman engineering major Antonio Elliot said that "Welcome Fest was very helpful in finding clubs I wanted to join."

It's a popular misconception that Welcome Fest is only for freshmen. But many upperclassmen find themselves wandering around looking for free goodies and even signing up for a few new clubs themselves. This is one of the first big events after a long summer. Many upperclassmen find themselves reuniting with old friends they haven't seen for three months. It's a very fun experience that many returning students look forward to.

Where at Northern can you find seventy-eight deluxe rooms, an exercise area and spa, premium cable on premium flat panel televisions, an elevator and (dramatic roll please) refrigerators and microwave ovens? Well, you can't find them anywhere yet, but in the fall of 2008 the answer will be the Inn at Ohio Northern University. And since the thriving metropolis of Ada lies midway between Nowhere and Nothing, having a place for visitors to dwell once they stumble upon Ada seems a very fitting addition.

As for those still mourning the loss of the Colonel and his mysterious findings, rejoicing might be in order at the beginning of the 2008 school year. Ratched up above the Ada skyline is soon to be the golden arches of goodness that can only mean one thing: the dollar menu is finally here. When six days of T-bell seems like too much, stop by and get a burger from a clown.

If you've had your fill of McFlamable and Taco E, but can't shake that burr-biting hee-hee, drop into Northern Main. For the fall of 2008 NDM is getting a facelift. Whether NDM will become an ultra-hip coffee house of the future, a hip-style diner, a wild west saloon, or something else remains unknown. One one thing is certain: you will never have enough points to buy the bar stool chair.

Finally, if you are a printing enthusiast or security aficionado, be sure to check out the new building housing those systems and more right by the tennis courts. Pack a lunch and bring a friend because there is over 2,000 square feet of safety and publishing power to go beginning in fall of 2008.

It's the season to be jolly and joyous. From snowball fights to hot chocolate, there is something for almost everyone to enjoy during the winter season. Playing outside in the snow is a major part of winter. Fa Jay Gindlesberger shares that he "enjoys building igloos and forts in the snow." Alan Ohman, a sophomore Creative Writing major, takes a different approach to the new fallen flurries. Instead of building snowmen, Ohman says, "I like to ride my bike through the snow."

There are also those students who would rather stay inside where it is nice and warm. Freshman Literature major Ipelia Bottoni reports that her favorite part of winter is, "being forced to stay inside. I have more time for reading and hot chocolate. I like it being cold outside and warm inside. It's very cozy." Fa Chinwe Uduh would rather be inside as well. She says she likes to "watch movies and play with her three kids." Junior Electrical Engineering major Julia Krupp says, "My favorite part of winter is being able to dress warmly."

Snow and cold weather are only two aspects of winter, however. There are also holidays to anticipate. Krupp cannot wait until she is able to go home to spend some of Hanukkah with her family. Krupp says, "I light the menorah and have a nice dinner with my family. Lighting the menorah is the best part." Unfortunately, because of the campus rules, Krupp is unable to do this on campus.

Christmas is a much anticipated part of the winter season. Decorating trees, singing carols and giving gifts are among students' favorite parts of the holiday. Most students spend the holidays with their families. Bottoni says, "You know what we are going to eat for Christmas dinner the week before, and then everyone helps fix it. Afterwards we sit around and watch movies." Food is also a big part of any holiday. Ohman shares looks forward to "the spice cake and mince pie." Gindlesberger enjoys seeing his friends singing Christmas carols and in general, "everything that accompanies Christmas." Uduh cherishes the foundation of Christmas. "The reason we're celebrating Christmas is the birth of Christ. Christmas reinforces this belief."

Many students look forward to winter break. Some are awaiting the holidays, and some are just glad for a break from classes and school in general. Some like snow, while others would much rather be in the hot sun of the South. Anyway one looks at it, winter break is most students' favorite part of the Winter Quarter.

Habitat for Humanity followed their tradition of donating their time to those who are in need of homes down in Birmingham, Alabama, Jacksonville, Florida, and Jackson, Mississippi. Students departed from the campus area at 7 a.m. on Saturday, and returned on either Friday or Saturday of the following week, sacrificing their sleep in order to assist in the building of an awarding experience for senior Missionary students and veteran Habitat trippers Ashley Wolff. The feeling of being present while helping a man and getting to know some other MCC students made the experience absolutely amazing. I would have loved to have been there with the people who went on our trip several and know that everyone's prayers and prayers will support them.

Another group who travelled to Mexico for the purpose of Chagel, The Mexico-Mexico Trip and to Federico Sagrera, Mexico's first indigenous filmmaker, was from San Antonio, Texas. "I normally go home and do nothing; I wanted something different. The first last year I did a trip depending on how I was feeling. I was, Mexico is indeed awesome!" Fellow Mexican travel writer, Kelly, and her partner, Madeira Samuels, commented that the trip was "not just about the painting, construction and demolition [but] we do while we are there." Indeed the group "traveled to create relationships with the people in Mexico, understanding that even though we might not all speak the same language, we are brothers and sisters in Christ's family."

Finding fun things to do can become a challenge in Ada, OH, especially for those who do not have a vehicle. There's one group on campus that makes sure that fun activities are not lacking, and that's the Student Planning Committee. Senior International Business and Economics major and SPC President Nicole Muryn reported that "this year was amazing for SPC. We had thirty events and had record turn-outs for most events."

SPC made sure that students had something to look forward to all the time. "We decided that we wanted one event every week so that students had something to do either every Tuesday or Friday, and we were able to come up with events for every week," said junior International Business and Economics major and publicity coordinator Jenna Doellman. The committee also worked hard to mix their activities up. Junior Journalism major and Communications Coordinator Amanda Williams explained that "the great turn outs to everything we hosted were probably due to the fact that we offered such a variety of events, from Laser Tag, to Open Mic Nights, to comedians."

Members of SPC agreed overall that the comedians and comedy hypnotist Frederick Winters proved to be the most popular events. "Frederick Winters was one of the most successful events this year," said freshman Business Administration major Ryan Lawry. "We love having him, and the audience always has a great time," Williams said the opening comedians "always draw a huge crowd, and that's probably your most well-known annual event we sponsor." New ideas also proved to be a hit with the student body. "We had great success with our home-grown events like the Easter Egg Extravaganza as well," Doellman said. The Easter Egg Extravaganza was a campus-wide Easter egg hunt, with a 5,000 eggs hidden about the campus. "Watching 200 college kids race around campus to find them was quite hilarious," laughed Williams. "But, I suppose when you have a grand prize like Rock Band, you certainly have a big crowd like that." SPC branched out to other organizations as well, co-sponsoring events with them. Williams said that her "favorite events this year were the ones that we co-sponsored with other campus organizations—Chinese New Year, Latin Dance Night, Casino Night. Getting together with other groups and clubs is a fun way for us to branch out and reach a totally different audience than we would otherwise."

SPC is a unique part of Northern's campus life for their extra effort to reach every student on campus so they can have a good time. "SPC gives students an option for entertainment in Ada," said Muryn. "This year, my goal was to have at least two events that every student wanted to attend." Williams agreed that SPC is definitely a special part of Northern that others may look over. "I think SPC is a really important aspect of this college. A lot of money and work goes into planning events, and we provide them completely free to anyone who attends. With the variety of activities and events we plan, I feel like there's something for everyone at some point in the year."

Sibs Weekend is an entire weekend where OHSU students get to spend time with their siblings while at the college. The theme for this year's Sibs Weekend was an (in)erty/oot theme. The weekend's events included snacks and live banding on Friday night, and an OPC carnival on Saturday. There were a record number of campus groups and organizations participating in the carnival including Tau Beta Sigma, Phi Kappa, Delta Epsilon, and Alpha Xi Delta. After the carnival, the Columbus Zoo brought a small exhibit of animals including an armadillo, hissing cockroaches, and a baby leopard. The kids were allowed to pet the animals after the presentation. Finally, on Saturday night, siblings watched a "Box Office" and a performance by magician Norman Ng.

According to OPC's Communications Coordinator, Junior Journalism major Amanda Williams, "Overall, the weekend went smoothly. We had one of our largest turnouts, with over 100 siblings participating in the weekend's events. We also had an amazing cooperation from campus groups, and that really helped to make the weekend more fun."

"I think my favorite moment was overhearing a little girl telling her big brother, 'This is the best day of my life!' Hearing things like that from the kids really makes all the hard work that goes into the planning worth it."

Junior Creative Writing major Erik Hillier said, "My sister loves coming to Southern for Sibs Weekend. We both always have a great time hanging out together, especially since I haven't been able to come home as much for the last couple years."

PROGRAM BY BOB WILSON & REMI LAM

from the first day to the last, we're always in your life

Residence Life at Ohio Northern is unlike any other around. Almost everything that Res Life does is unique, starting with the actual residence halls. The halls all have based their theme on a certain country, by choosing a specific country to represent themselves. For example, Majestic Hall chose Egypt, Northern House and 5 University Parkway divided on Egypt and Founders Hall picked Italy. Having a universal theme that all the residence halls follow unifies the student body, making North-erners feel more comfortable and at home.

Res Life also puts much more attention on students' personal relationships than other schools do. This not only develops the resident assistants, but also helps the residents feel much more relaxed in their new environment. The fact that the Residence Life program is so personal and has such a positive effect keeps many of the RAs come back year after year. Junior Language Arts Education major and NLP/Northern House Hall Resident Cassandra Green said, "To me, Res Life has been a rewarding experience. It has taught me how to help people and to be a great leader. It is an experience that I wouldn't trade for the world." Many of the RAs, SRAs and HRS share Green's warm feelings for Res Life, and those feelings are also shared by Director of Residence Life Justin Courtney. "This has been a great year of instituting positive changes in the program," said Courtney, "I am pleased with all of the staff and all of their efforts with developing consistency on campus."

Residence Life at Ohio Northern is unlike any other because of the community that it creates here. It is safe to say in this instance that bigger is not better.

religious life

Nothing is closer to Northern than the experience of the religious life on campus. The religious organizations are involved in almost every aspect of campus life. With organizations such as Son's Rays, People of Worship, six musical groups, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Christian Societies, Ad-Friend and Elders, Orange Noons, Unlimited Sharing, and Christian Pharmacists Fellowship International, everyone can find a place to fulfill their spiritual needs. The chapel organizations benefit the students and the campus by committing to strengthening relationships and service to others.

Kappa Phi and Sigma Theta Epsilon, the Christian Women's Club and Christian Fraternity, have encouraged their new brothers and sisters to become more active in campus life. This is not the only group showing more involvement. "No matter who you are, if you open yourself up to the options available to you, you will find an organization within the chapel where you can feel at home," says junior Nursing major Summer Hall.

Fr. Andrew Taylor describes the religious life on campus as "much like the American culture in that it is diverse and often individualized, but groups such as NCP, PCA and Habitat for Humanity are seeking to broaden the community through loving and serving others and their Lord and Savior Jesus Christ."

Aside from the ongoing activities held in the chapel, students can be found in the chapel for prayer, meditation and fellowship with others. Sophomore Political Science and Literature major Dan Jones says "Being involved in the many chapel groups allows students to focus on and grow in their spiritual walks and also focus on studies and other events healthily."

Abdullah Al-Thiyath

Adjusting to life in America was not hard for second-year Computer Engineering major Abdullah Al-Thiyath. "To adapt I try to introduce myself to new friends so I feel at home," Abdul said. Abdul decided to leave KSA, Saudi Arabia and come to Ohio Northern when he heard of the university's high rank in the academic world. The cultural differences between the United States and Saudi Arabia have not been many according to Abdul. The only noticeable difference to Abdul is that "finding friends is faster here." Another factor that has made life at ONU an enjoyable one is the campus. Although Abdul could do without the actual town of Ada. "I love the campus size in regards to the classrooms, but not the size of the town..."

Yinglin Wang

Junior Business Administration major Yinglin Wang travelled from China to Ohio Northern University. Yinglin liked the sound of ONU when she heard that Northern had a more relaxing setting. "I heard it had small classes, and that not that many international students came here," Yinglin explained. "I thought it would be a perfect spot for me to learn English." Her experience in the United States has been positive. "People in the US are more casual, nice. It is easy for me to get involved in activities." Of course American culture is not the comforts of her home in China. "The weather is different here, the music is different. I like to meet new friends and speak in my native language, English. Yinglin has had a great experience at Northern. "It is so much fun to learn about different countries and different cultures."

Richard Ewane

Differences in food and language may be a concern when one is considering traveling to a new country. For sophomore International Business and Economics student Richard Ewane, the largest adjustment is being away from his family and friends still living in his native Cameroon. Luckily for Ewane, not all of his family lives in Africa. In fact, Ewane chose to go to Ohio Northern because he has an uncle who lives in Dayton. In the end, he "consider[ed] selected two, got a scholarship from [Ohio Northern]" and has never regretted his decision.

HyunHee Kim

"I strongly believe that being an exchange student can lead to a whole new domain of life that is far beyond my limited scope and understanding." The want for a "more exciting and dynamical" life inspired Management major HyunHee Kim to enter Ohio Northern's exchange program. The Seoul, South Korea native is visiting Ohio Northern from HanYang University. HyunHee had always "dreamed about studying in other countries because that experience can broaden my outlook on the world." Ohio Northern was appealing to her because of its smaller size and "it seemed to take care of a student's career and needs." At first the culture of America was a little strange for HyunHee. "I was shocked by several things, ranging from the way people gestured to the way they spoke," HyunHee quickly overcame the cultural differences by trying to understand them. Another difference between Korea and the United States that HyunHee noticed was the attitude of American students. "It seems that almost all American students think and act as free as a bird." Ohio Northern has provided HyunHee many positive opportunities and experiences. "Everyday is wonderful and interesting. I look forward to everyday."

Many students' studies go beyond the classroom when they travel abroad to countries such as Spain, Venezuela, Germany, China and South Korea. Senior History and Spanish major Laure Lotte says that spending five months studying in Valparaiso, Chile was a great way for her to improve her Spanish. "Because Chilean Spanish is very different from the Spanish you learn in the classroom."

Living in a foreign country may require many adjustments, not only to the language, but with the different culture as well. Senior Korean History and Culture major Jessica Riegler traveled to Seoul, South Korea and Xi'an, China this summer. "It was my first time out of the country, everything was new," Riegler elaborated, "The food in Korea was amazing, the people were so friendly and the mountains were breathtaking." History and German major Benjamin Wollet took pleasure out of adjusting to Germany's "environmentally-oriented attitude." "Germans do many things to protect the environment, such as recycling nearly all trash and riding bikes, buses, and trains instead of cars." While enjoying this cultural difference, Wollet regrettably added that although German food wasn't hard to adjust to, he did "prefer American breakfasts to the Germans' simple bread and cheese meals."

Studying abroad is a great way to learn, and achieve the rest of the world's love to travel, and getting to live abroad is even better than getting to visit another country for a very short period of time," says Letz. "I have had many traveling opportunities available for the students of Ohio State University. I think everyone should travel abroad at least once in their life." Says International Economics and Business major Angela Trifiletti who traveled to Madrid, Spain for a month where she, like Letz, stayed with a host family to experience life as a native in that

Wollet recommends Germany to anyone, even non-language speakers. "Germany is a great jumping off point for those wishing to see the rest of Europe," Wollet explained. Letz recommends traveling abroad in general to all. "Everyone should travel abroad at some point simply to take you out of your comfort zone and teach you to appreciate and understand others," says Letz. "It's challenging, but it is a lot of fun, and I think you learn more about the world, the topic of study, and yourself during a study abroad trip than you could ever imagine."

creatively, students across campus generate income to survive

Whether it is the mundane job of mixing hazardous chemicals or the glamorous task of exchanging fika for vaccines, scores of tasks across campus simply have to be done. Answering the calls to duty this year are approximately two students willing to mix a bit of tiling with already demanding schedules. Why do so many take on this extra tiling? There's naturally the intrinsic value of certain work — such as knowing people cannot enjoy a game of ping-pong without your approval, but then there's also the often forgotten benefit: the cash. And that cash became even more important for many Buckeye State students due to the recent reduction of the Ohio Choice Grant.

What do students themselves have to say about their jobs? Senior Biology major Daniel Michel has a special skills job, and can be found tutoring biology in Hettrich Memorial Library. Regarding his work Michel says, "When someone comes back and says I have helped them, it leaves me with a good feeling."

Adam Hittner, a Pg and computer guru, utilizes his skills in the campus's Information Technology department. "Fixing computers is an enjoyable hobby. Although I prefer using Ubuntu Linux, I don't mind installing Windows because it breaks so often it keeps me employed."

In addition to the great number of students finding employment at Northern, others ventured out beyond the edges of the mountainous-campus terrain to seek an off-campus job. One of those successful off-campus job-seekers is Junior Accounting major Beth Thornton. Beth explained of her job at the Cracker Barrel, "The warm country atmosphere of Cracker Barrel attracts some famous customers, but I have not been able to serve them." Among those were a-l-a-g-a-i Archie Franklin and Motown sensation the Temptations.

Your alarm goes off, you climb out of bed and start preparing for the day. Maybe you have an early class, or maybe you do not have one until later in the day. No matter what time you wake up, probably one of the first things you think about is your classes. However, classes are only a part of a student's life at Northern.

Many students work a job to accompany the task of keeping up with their school work. Sophomore Professional Writing major Rachel Smith says, "I get up and eat breakfast. Then I go to class and cross country practice before I do homework, or go work at the Melatosh desk."

Cross country is only one of the extracurricular activities students participate in at Northern. Additional extracurricular activities include other sports, theater band and various clubs, including secretaries and fraternities. Junior Environmental Studies Chris Tylenda says, "When I'm done for the day, I like to relax and hang out with my fraternity brothers or my girlfriend." Even though students enjoy their extracurricular activities, most enjoy the weekend even more.

Most students cannot wait for the weekend to arrive and welcome the two day break from classes. On the weekends many students enjoy hanging out with their friends. Some go home to visit family and high school friends. Students also catch up on sleep, watch movies and play games, including ping pong, disc golf and various board games.

Along with the weekend, there are everyday activities outside of class that students enjoy. Nursing major Summer Hall enjoys the simple things in life. "After a three hour chemistry lab I enjoy a good, hot shower." Tylenda's favorite part of the day is a sentimental one. Tylenda says, "My favorite part of the day is when I get to see my girlfriend and cook dinner with her."

Dedicated Followers of Fashion: Northerners Dress Sharp

The 60's, 70's and 80's are certainly not dead yet. Mini dresses, prints, flowing shirts and skinny jeans adorn the fashion savvy ladies of Northern. The perfect outfit also needs the perfect shoes. Feet are more comfortable this year with flats, lower-heeled boots and cozy galooshes. Stilettos, fashionable as ever, are still around to give feet an occasional wake up call. Gentlemen's fashion has varied very little this year. However, worn out, holey jeans are no longer as popular as they once were, being replaced by dark wash denim.

Wii Would Like to Shred

New gaming systems and video games have taken the gaming world by storm. Play Station 3 and the Nintendo Wii made a grand entrance this year. With the Nintendo Wii, students can get off that couch and be active in the game. The wireless Wii Remote allows the player to be immersed in the game by making the wand a tennis racquet, a fishing pole or even a sword, giving the illusion of really playing. Students do not need to drop hundreds of dollars just to play the Wii. The Affinity Village's common room has a Wii that students may borrow from the desk. New councils naturally require new games. Several new games were introduced this year, including Guitar Hero III. The third edition of a popular guitar simulation game included an array of new songs to master.

Glamor Glamor More... Music that is...

The 2007-2008 school year has seen the return of the old and the break out of new bands in the music world. Maroon 5, Finger Eleven, Justin Timberlake and Avril Lavigne are just some of the veteran artists topping the charts with new hits and infusing iPods and MP3 players. Newer faces such as Amy Winehouse, Sara Bareilles, Sean Kingston and Swedish trio Peter, Dinklage and John are also contributing new sounds to the music pool.

Lat, Tat Me Later!

"Laugh out loud" is just one of the many abbreviated phrases that may be sent in the form of a text message to a friend. Text messaging is the quickest and most common way to communicate with friends across campus. From bored students in class who should be paying attention, to friends setting up plans for tonight, text messaging makes sending and receiving information fast and efficient.

Ohio Northern keeps its students, faculty and alumni busy with many events and guest speakers throughout the year. From honoring historic Northern figures, to renaming the College of Business, to keeping students academically aware with special guest speakers, faculty and the administration present many important events and guests for students to attend.

Henry Solomon Lehr, founder of ONU, was honored this year on October 6th at 11:30 a.m. with a statue of himself placed on a pedestal between the Dicke and Hill buildings, in the middle of an existing round garden. Lehr's great-grandson Dr. James Lehr Kennedy represented his family at the unveiling, and statue committee chairs Dr. Bill Robinson, First Lady Toby Baker and Assistant Professor of Art Brett Rowe were present as well. Lehr's statue was sculpted by Ann Arbor, Michigan native Tad McKillop.

The College of Business Administration went through a major change this year with its new name. The college's official name is now the James F. Dicke College of Business Administration, named after alumni dedicated ONU supporter James F. Dicke. A formal event was held to celebrate not only the naming of the college, but also to honor the strong support that the Dicke family has given ONU over the years. Senior Communication Arts major Sonja Umbs served on a committee to plan the event along with Executive Assistant to the President Bill Robinson, Director of Communications and Marketing Carol Flax, Vice President for University Advancement Tom Stieck, Director of Alumni Affairs Ann Donnelly and James F. Dicke College of Business Administration Dean James Fenton.

Instructors keep academics in the heads of students by organizing events that inform students about what is new and happening in their respective fields. The College of Engineering hosted the Spotts Lecture Series on March 26th, designed to inform engineering students about future developments and challenges in the engineering world. This year Dr. Joseph Hager spoke on "Energy Technology Alternatives in Changing Times." Students found the lecture interesting and beneficial, including sophomore Electrical Engineering major Justine Jacob. "It was interesting to hear about the different forms of alternative energy that are on the horizon," she said. "Converting the heat the Earth produces into energy seems like a great alternative to fossil fuels."

Whether attending a lecture to enrich one's knowledge of their field, going to a formal event to honor an influential alumnus or memorializing a historical university figure, ONU keeps the events going, and the speakers flowing.

During the hustle and bustle of college life, students are able to find ways to stay fit. One of these ways is utilizing Kinghorn Center on campus, which offers a variety of opportunities to workout. Some of these activities include the weight room, cardiovascular room, an indoor track, and swimming pool, among others. Senior Jason Keweniger puts both the weight room and the cardiovascular room to use. "Three to four days a week I lift, and other days a week I will do physometrics or running." There are also several gymnasiums that play host to multitudes of intramural, club, and varsity sports on campus. Indoor tennis courts also offer the opportunity to play during colder weather. The renovated Lima complex also provides a small workout area which includes a weight machine and several elliptical machines. This allows students who live in Lima to workout while doing laundry, or to take a short study break without having to leave the complex.

Both workout areas also provide a social aspect as many students choose to work out with friends. Students who don't have the time to go to either facility often find that walking to and from class each day contributes slightly to staying fit. Some students also choose to simply walk on the green monster to keep their bodies running. Junior International Business and Economics major Angela Tribble prefers to walk on the green monster because "you aren't looking at the same four walls, or stuck watching a TV you can't even hear."

Another aspect of staying fit is eating healthy. This can range anywhere from eating plenty of fruits and vegetables to drinking plenty of water. Senior Management major Quentin Elson says that eating healthy is "part of my outlook. I want to maintain a healthy body, so I can maintain a more healthy and productive life. A healthy diet, along with an adequate amount of sleep and exercise, can contribute to a healthy and successful college experience."

Students' accomplishments do not go unnoticed at Northern. Their efforts in academics and leadership are awarded on Honors Day and the President's Leadership Dessert.

Students celebrated their academic accomplishments along with family and friends on Honors Day, held on May 3, 2008. The day began at 8:15 a.m., with the induction of junior and senior students into the University honorary Phi Kappa Phi. The main event for the day was the Honors Day Convocation, held in the North Gymnasium and presided over by President Rendell Baker. Dr. Andrew Luthany was the Key-Note Speaker, followed by student speaker Christopher Lemmon. Senior Civil Engineering major Chris Shewer found that "receiving recognition for my achievements was exciting. I had put in a lot of hard work leading up to that point. It was nice to be recognized."

Another important part of Honors Day was the White Coat Ceremony. Pg Amy Houschick explained that the ceremony was "for the P's as recognition of our professionalism." Houschick found Honors Day as a whole to be "a nice way to celebrate all the hard work I've done. I work hard for my own satisfaction and out of my own determination."

Students were also honored for their leadership abilities. Directed towards the campus and local organizations at the ninth annual President's Leadership Dessert, held on April 30th, Summer Hall, Junior Nursing Major stated she was "honored to receive an invitation to such an event, and even more so once she realized, "what an extraordinary event this evening was." Eight students in particular were acknowledged: The DeBow Flood Awards for Outstanding Leadership were given to freshmen Art major Bethany Schreck and Business Administration major Ben Lowry; sophomore Communication Arts major Natalyn Giverson; and Mechanical Engineering major Josh Vargas; junior Communication Art major Katie Weisburger and Finance major Tim White, and seniors Finance major Stephanie Bell and Patrick Symmonds. Ole State football coach Jim Tressle also addressed the students, making the event more special and enjoyable.

Students learn that hard work pays off in the form of recognition and awards at Northern. Both factors are sure to keep students motivated to continue their academic and leadership excellence in the future.

On Sunday, May 11, 2008 at 2 p.m., 102 law students waved goodbye to Northern and hello to the real world after graduating from the Pettit College of Law. The ceremony was held in King-Horn Gymnasium.

Law students had a lot to celebrate this year. An astonishing 100% of the Pettit College of Law's first-time applicants passed the Ohio bar exam, which was held in Columbus in February.

President Kendall Baker presided over the commencement ceremony, which opened for the event at 12:30 p.m.. At 1:30 a musical prelude signaled the beginning of the commencement exercises, and the faculty and juris doctorate candidates filed out to receive their honors. Eight lawyers from different countries that have blossoming democracies were also conferred their LL.M. degrees from ONU, rewarding their hard work and dedication to the Democratic Governance and Rule of Law program.

The ceremony had an array of special guest speakers, including former United States Senator Michael DeWine, who was also a 1979 graduate from the Pettit College of Law. BG David P. Carey, USA (Ret.), also a graduate of the law college in 1977, was awarded the honorary degree. LJ and number one of the 2008 law class Melissa Kildner delivered the student address to her peers.

The ceremony continued with Dean David Crago delivering his address to the students, followed by LL.M. student Austin Macsways of Malawi and fellow classmate Thomas McLelland giving the invocation and benediction respectfully. The national anthem and benediction was performed by LJ Brian Anderson, LJ Andrew Hopper, LJ Nathan Hoser and LJ Roger Steffan, who make up the Concurrences quartet. Afterwards, students were rewarded with their academic hoods and presentation of diplomas.

The new graduates and their families celebrated their achievement at a reception after the ceremony.

Right Descending, graduates reflect before the ceremony begins. Tim Ullrich speaks to his fellow classmates, and Zach Stipe and his fellow share a moment as this chapter of his life begins.

On Sunday, May 18, 2008, approximately 600 students filed into the Sports Center to await through the motion of receiving their diplomas, completing their lives as undergraduates and beginning a new phase of life.

A number of pre-commencement events occurred on the Saturday before the big day. A graduation reception was held at the Dickie House. At 6:30 p.m. that same day a Graduation Banquet was held in the dining room in McIntosh. Graduating history major Laurel Lotz was grateful for the reception. "The reception was nice, and my family had always wanted to meet President Baker and Toby Baker," said Lotz. "The banquet was also nice. We had a place to conveniently feed the ten members of my family that came to graduation without having to find a restaurant everyone liked." Saturday events concluded with a chapel commencement service held at 8:15 p.m. Graduating civil engineering major Chris Shearer participated in the service, singing "the benediction at the chapel service with the other senior University Singers. It was a moving, reflective service."

Undergraduate Commencement was held in the sports center at 2 p.m., where proud parents, relatives and friends watched their loved ones collect the honors they earned during years of hard work and dedication. "The Undergraduate Commencement Ceremony was beautifully executed," Shearer reported. "Ohio Northern truly makes the day one to remember and cherish."

The occasion was marked by several special aspects, including Ohio Supreme Court Justice Evelyn L. Stratton addressing the students as the guest speaker. Shearer found Stratton to be "a brilliant and terrific speaker. Her story about giving and receiving brought my mother and aunt to tears." In addition to Stratton, graduating pharmacy major Tim Ullrich also spoke. Both Shearer and Lotz found the moment they received their diploma surreal. "It was so weird standing at the edge of stage, knowing my diploma was coming," said Lotz. "However, I received my diploma and made it off stage without tripping! It was fantastic," and reception was held afterwards in each college after the Commencement Receptional.

After the graduating class is ready to move onto its next stage in life after North. "I am thrilled, but nervous, to be entering the real world," said Shearer. "I am attending graduate school at Georgia Tech next year, so I am putting off the real world a little longer. However, it will be a wonderful learning experience to be self-dependent in an unfamiliar city. Bring it on!"

In December, 2007 the Ohio Northern community suffered a tremendous loss when 2007 Political Science and Professional Communication graduate Kara Calhoun passed away. The Delta Zeta members left her mark on many of the people of Ohio Northern, including President and Incoming Political Science major Rachael Seares. "Kara was a very bright motivated person. She knew exactly what she wanted out of life and was determined to achieve those things. She never met anyone who was as driven."

Delta Zeta sisters commemorated Kara's memory in her honor. "A group of Delta Zeta members and alumni alike, shared some of our favorite memories of Kara, and joined together in singing one of our traditional sisterhood songs," Seares said. The Delta Zetas also helped organize the memorial service that was held on October 8, 2007 in the Chapel. Many students and faculty came to pay their respects to Kara, and share their fond memories of her. Everyone recalled how Kara's determination and personal drive were an inspiration to all. "Kara was accepted to the Ohio State Law School for fall, was an elected Parliament Council President, and a wonderful student," said Seares. She said her motivation, though, Kara was a wonderful listener and mentor. She was friendly, outgoing and a joy to take classes with.

Kara was happy to forever preserve it in front of the Delta Zeta house. She has also planted a tree for her which stands as a symbol recognizing their sister. Kara Calhoun's dedication to achievement and beautiful personality will always live on in the hearts of those she touched forever.

The 2007-08 season at the Freed Center for the Performing Arts was not unlike past seasons in that it provided the ONU campus community with a diverse range of theatrical shows to attend.

The season kicked off and wrapped up with musicals. Disney's "Beauty and the Beast," a colossal stage production that utilized a rented Broadway set, was performed in August. And, rounding out the year in April, was "Little Women the Musical," directed by guest artist Kelly Ground.

The season in between, along with incorporating the ever-popular "Holiday Spectacular" and some big-name headlining performers, was filled to the brim with events and performances unique to Ohio Northern. The fall show was Tennessee Williams' "Suddenly, Last Summer," a period piece that challenged student actors with thick southern accents, and also welcomed Scottish guest director Ken Alexander.

The winter brought the "Student-Directed One Act Plays," in which theater majors Brandon Price, Dana Ellison, Lindsay Esser and Mary Elvey directed all-student casts and crews in American-written one act plays.

"It was the chance for the students to really take charge," Price, a senior International Theater Production and psychology major, said of the opportunity. From April 2-6, the annual International Play Festival took the stage. In its sixth year at ONU, the 2008 show was titled "Dissolving Borders," and focused on the issues of Mexican immigration. Two brand new plays were commissioned for the production from Mexican playwrights, and both had their world premieres here at ONU. Two professional Mexican actors were also hired for the show.

Following the official Freed Center season, the ONU Improv Underground performed two improv/sketch comedy shows in May — one short-form competition, and one long-form show. The group, entirely in the hands of the students, hopes to continue these annual showcases of improvisation.

Anna McLaughlin, junior Youth Ministry major, enjoyed being part of the improv group. "I always enjoy being able to let loose and have fun without a script," she said.

Along with the theatrical season, the Freed Center also hosted two student dance shows: one in October in conjunction with the Frost Ballet, and one in January that focused on music and dance styles from the '20s, '40s and '50s. The January "Glamour and Glamour" show showcased music by George Gershwin and Irving Berlin and included everything from tap to jazz to ballroom dancing.

In the 2007-08 school year, perhaps more than any other, Ohio Northern University's bands reached out to audiences on a global scale. Two musical groups traveled abroad on performance tours, and another brought a foreign culture to ONU's campus. In November 2007, the Ohio Northern University Marching Band, directed by Charles Bates, spent a week in China on performance tour. Performances included a parade and concert at Nanjing Road in Shanghai, and concerts on the Great Wall and at the Temple of Earth in Beijing.

"It was neat to experience a different culture," senior Chemistry major Lisa Meyers said. "I probably would have never gone to China if it wasn't for marching band."

In February, the University Singers, directed by Dennis Krutzer, traveled to the Baltic country of Estonia for a week-long performance tour. Performing in churches and halls in Estonia's capital city of Tallinn, the Singers were able to bring a little American flair to the European country.

While the ONU Symphony did not have the opportunity to travel the globe, it did have the opportunity to bring something unique to campus. In February, "From North to South of the Border" was performed. The concert explored the Mexican migration/immigration issue through music and multimedia. The Symphony was led by guest conductor Juho De Santiago, and included the world premiere of a commissioned piece from Mexican composer Armando Cordoba.

Denise Jansen, a senior Literature and Political Science major and oboe player, was impressed by this international opportunity. "Being able to experience Mexican culture during our international concert has been one of the most amazing musical experiences that I have ever had," she said. "Being able to play a world premiere piece with the international composer was a once in a lifetime experience."

Jansen also called the Symphony's spring performance "one of our best ever." In May, the ONU Symphony presented "Springtime Voyage," conducted by Lloyd Butler. The concert was hailed as a "great voyage of American music."

Also in May, the ONU Jazz Band had the opportunity to perform with jazz piano legend Ellis Marsalis. Other musical events during the year included the fall "Americana" concert, Band O' Rama in November, Christmas concerts from the symphonic and jazz bands, a winter band concert and the annual Spring Band Festival.

It is like being a kid on Christmas Eve. The excitement and anticipation of Bid Day builds up the night before and continues through the next day. Anyone in a sorority would agree Bid Day is one of the most exciting days of the recruitment process. With no more rules about keeping their respective sororities secret, recruitment counselors come back to their sisters. Most importantly, each sorority gains new girls to call sisters. Julie Wirick, a Psi and Zeta Tau Alpha member says she "enjoys seeing the future of Zeta Tau Alpha in our new members and getting the recruitment counselors back."

It all begins when the sororities gather in King Horn, singing songs and yelling cheers, waiting for the doors to open to allow the new girls to join their new-found sisters. After the new girls are welcomed and pictures are taken, all the sororities run to awaiting trucks for the traditional drive around fraternity circle to exhibit the thrill of gaining new sisters.

Overall, Bid Day is a time of joy that lives on throughout a girl's years at Ohio Northern University, a moment she will always remember. "I'll never forget my first bid day." Junior History and Social Studies Education major and Alpha Xi Delta member Jennifer Russell says, "The excitement that was running wild in the air was unlike anything I had ever experienced. The anticipation of receiving the little white envelope with my name on it, and inside would be an invitation to join an organization of women that I would be able to call my sisters was great." For those joining a sorority, it is a home away from home, a smile on a rainy day, and the beginning of an experience they will never forget.

Middle Left: Bethany Schultz and April Smith were two of the many Delta Tau Alpha sisters who sang "Hole My Body Before You Go Down." The Delta sorority placed third in that category and went on to win the Society Greek Week Olympics.

Greek Week is always an exciting week at ONU. It is the one week that the social Greek sororities and fraternities compete against each other in order to accomplish the goal of becoming Greek Week champions.

The battle of the Greek's theme this year was based on movies. Each chapter had to pick a movie they would use as their theme. The week started off with the traditional Greek Sing. Each chapter picked a song that came from their respective movies. The winners of Greek Sing were Kappa Alpha Theta and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

The Greeks put on their bowling shoes and went to the ONU Bowling Alley on Tuesday. Zeta Tau Alpha and Delta Sigma Phi came the masters of the alley, winning the event.

The Chapel was the focus of the Greeks on Wednesday, and later that night the first ever Watermelon Bash occurred. At the Watermelon Bash, there were a lot of hilarious and fun filled events, included corn hole, a watermelon eating contest and the Greeks were even able to pick their presidents. A live band was also present and played music after a majority of the events were completed.

On Thursday, the sororities and fraternities went against each other in a Game Show, which tested their knowledge of movie trivia. The winners were Zeta Tau Alpha and Delta Sigma Phi. On Friday a brand new event took place. In the past, Mad Tag of War had been the last event for Greek Olympics, but this year it received its own day. The event was extremely entertaining as people watched all the Greeks attempt to pull the others into the mud. Even the spectators grew a little mud happy and decided to throw others into the mud. The winners of Mad Tag of War were Zeta Tau Alpha and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

The climax of Greek Week was the Greek Olympics. The Greek Olympics included the popular and favorite chariot race, a ten person pyramid, six legged race and many other events. All the events were scored by places and the scores were tallied together to determine the winner. Junior Accounting major and Sigma Phi Epsilon member Eric Baird reflected "We really wanted to continue our dominance and win Greek Week for the 4th consecutive time. So we tried really hard to win Greek Olympics because that was one of the deciding factors." Sigma Phi Epsilon's work paid-off. They and the Delta Zetas were the winners. Junior Communications major and Sigma Phi Epsilon member Bryan Mulvaney commented that "winning the Greek Olympics was no individual action; it was about our whole brotherhood coming together and that's what was so great about winning."

All week there was a Penny Wars jar for each chapter to win the title of Greek God and Goddess. The money that was raised went to the Marines this year. This year the sororities and fraternities raised $1227.99. The Greek God award was given to Sigma Phi Epsilon and the Greek Goddess was awarded to Kappa Alpha Theta. The overall Greek Week Champions and the winners for bragging rights for a whole year were Zeta Tau Alpha and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Philanthropy is more than doing something because one has to, it's doing something for those who cannot, and making a difference in the community—making a difference can be something as small as reading a book to a group of kindergartners on a rainy day. Junior Mechanical Engineering major, Doug Haversten states that the best thing about community service is “the thanks and praise that others give when we help them and knowing they appreciate your effort.”

Philanthropic events for the 2007-2008 school year included “Theta Twines” for Court Appointed Special Advocates sponsored by Kappa Alpha Theta, the “24-Hour Run for Life” for the American Lung Association sponsored by Theta Chi and “Buy-a-Pi” for the Sam Spady Foundation sponsored by the brothers of Sigma Pi. Each event not only raises money for a specific organization, but also raises awareness about what the organization stands for. Zeta Tau Alpha held the first annual Race for the Ribbon 5k walk/run for the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation in which they raised over $8,000. The sisters of Alpha Xi Delta held “Capture Xi Flag” an event that raised money for Stand Up, an organization that helps educate kids who have run away from home. They also made tie-blankets to give to children in local hospitals. The brothers of Theta Chi held a Texas Hold ‘Em Tournament where the entry fee was a can good or monetary donation for the Ada food pantry. They also raised money for Toys for Tots for less fortunate children at Christmas time. Theta Chi’s motto “The Helping Hand” speaks directly to philanthropy. PJ Sean Morris explains “we participate in philanthropy events because it is part of our fraternity’s core belief system and also because it feels good to give back to the community.”

The fraternities and societies joined together for “Up ‘til Dawn” raising money for children who are patients at St. Jude’s. In addition, individual chapters adopted a local family at Christmas and purchasing gifts for them for “Fill the Fireplace.” Giving back is just a small part of being a part of a Greek organization but one of the most critical and fulfilling.

Make time hard too much to fit in an academic sport? Not a problem. Northerners who do not participate in Varsity and JV sports fit in their daily dosage of athletics through intramural and club sports.

ONU offers a number of traditional sports clubs to participate in such as Women's Club Soccer and Men's Volleyball. Women's Club Soccer focuses on practicing soccer skills while also traveling and playing a number of different university teams in the Fall and Spring quarters. Sophomore Biology major Beth Buchinger was thrilled that there was a Club Soccer team on campus. "I've been playing soccer since I was four years old. My high school didn't have a team, so I had to give it up. I never realized that Northern had a club team until Web.comcast and not some girls on I signed up. Buchinger enjoys her time on the team, and "besides getting to play my favorite sport, I've made some good friends and gotten to know people I wouldn't have otherwise." The Men's Volleyball team had a phenomenal season this year with a record of 40-10.

Another club sport many Northerners enjoy is rugby. The Men's and Women's Black Rose Rugby teams both had fun, productive seasons out on the field. "Overall, we didn't have a winning season," commented Dg Valerie Couper on the women's season, "but it turned out to be a good building year. We had a lot of new experience added to the team this year. Our team has a lot of strong individuals who play their hearts out when on the rugby pitch. Our girls want to be out playing, and no matter what they play until the last whistle." Rugby coach Ray Schuck said that the men had "a fabulous year. They made the Dg playoffs in the fall. The men also won the Pittsburgh Collegiate Rugby Classic in March, and won our own ONU Rugby Invitational in April."

A ball is not necessarily needed to play a sport. Just ask the Ultimate Frisbee team and the Disc Golf team. Men's Ultimate Frisbee Team Captain and sophomore Mechanical Engineering major Jim Northrup says that, "as both a captain and a player, I was incredibly happy with the way the season went. We went on to Ultimate sectionals, and competed against some Division I powerhouses such as Miami, OSU, OU and WGSU. We placed 5 out of 25 teams in our section and qualified for nationals." Northrup plays Ultimate Frisbee for "the spirit of the game. The sport is incredibly competitive, but never at the cost of good sportsmanship. I play all year round with the team, and love it more than any other sport on campus." Disc Golf also involves Frisbee skills. The sport is similar to golf in that it involves progressing down an 18-hole course. Instead of a golf ball, however, the team uses a Frisbee.

Northerners find great ways to stay active on campus. Having a variety of different intramural and club sports is a great way to stay in shape, and make many new friends from all different areas of campus.

UNITED TO SPORTS INFORMATION

From November 2007 to March 2008 Ohio Northern's grapplers traveled from Michigan to Iowa demonstrating the sheer strength, agility and mental toughness necessary to place another man on his back.

To initiate the Ohio Athletic Conference competition the ONU Wrestling Team posted a decisive 44-6 victory over Midwestern, followed by another win over Tri-State to improve their season 2-2 overall. Back home on their own mats, seven wrestlers placed in the ONU Invitational, earning Ohio Northern wrestlers a 9th place ranking out of eighteen teams. In further tournament competition at the Midwest Invitational, ONU placed 16th out of twenty one teams with individual victories from freshman Luke Miller, who finished 3rd at 157 pounds, and Pg David Penny with a 5th place win at 125 pounds. The Polar Bears dominated Washington in the ONU Sports Center with a 3-0 victory led by senior Ben Flewman and sophomore

Jeff Penny. In Iowa for the National Duals, ONU garnered a 1-0 record, defeating St. Olaf (Minn.), but failing to Luther (Iowa) and Heidelberg. In an OAC dual with No. 6 ranked, and rival, Heidelberg, the Polar Bears suffered their first league loss, making them 2-1 in the OAC, and 4-7 overall.

For Senior Night activities ONU wrestlers mounted a 24-9 win over Baldwin Wallace raising their record to 5-7 overall and 3-1 in the OAC, while honoring seniors Flewman, Adam Koush and Scott Neueneschwander prior to the match. In the Monon Bell Classic three flawless performances by freshman Nick Hoopes, junior Drew Michel and Flewman led the Bears to a 3-1 record on the tournament. Following the impressive victories of the Monon Bell Classic, ONU hosted OAC rival Mount Union to achieve an overall winning record of 9-8 and 4-3 in the OAC.

In the final invitational of the season, ONU finished 15th of 27 teams but maintained impressive performances from David Penny, finishing 4th at 125 pounds, Miller, also 4th at 157 pounds and junior A.J. Coleman, who finished 8th at 165 pounds.

The ONU Wrestlers wrapped up the season with wins over John Carroll and Manchester. According to Jeff Penny, Sophomore Nursing Major, this win over John Carroll could even be "considered one of the highlights of the season as you being ranked and by the end of the regular season, losing only to Heidelberg." In the OAC Championship at John Carroll, Northerners finished 3rd among seven teams, with a total of 48.5 points. Flewman and David Penny earned their way to NCAA Championships with their performances in the OAC tournament. During NCAA Division III Championship wrestling, Flewman fell early from the consolation bracket, while teammate Penny advanced to the sweet sixteen where he fell to the no. 5 seed of Augsburg, Minn.

In regular fall fashion the trees start to change colors, the air is crisp, but fall at ONU just wouldn't be the same without football. The time came again when students threw on all their Northern gear and gathered up their friends to go cheer on the Polar Bears at good 'ole Dial-Roberson Stadium. It was always sure to be a good time.

The sports football season under the direction of head coach Deane Paul proved to be a pretty-tough one for the Polar Bears with an overall record of 7-3 and 48-51 Ohio Athletic Conference record. "The season had its fair share of ups and downs," said assistant coach Frank Fells. "But overall we finished with a winning season, which is always a plus for our program." The season started off with a bang when the Bears hosted Miami (Ohio) and dominated with a shutout of 42-0. Two days later senior David Delfino was named OAC Player of the week. "Watching Jack score every time he touched the ball was inspiring because he's such a talented offensive player," said senior offensive lineman Jacob Henchley.

After Northern took a 1-2 start in MAC games, they won with a score of 21-0 and the Bears were back in their own stomping grounds and took over at home. Senior Leanne Truesdell and Henchley were bestowed the honor of OAC Player of the Week. The Bears continued their winning streak and put another victory under their belt at Otterbein. All-around senior Steve Ginter was named OAC Player of the Week.

Northern's victory streak came to a halt at their second game. The special weekend was spoiled when they traveled at Mount Union came out ready to put the hurt on them. Mount Union came in and dominated the Bears and the loss was upsetting, but nothing could break the fight in the players' eyes. "We grew up a little, but grew even though there are over 100 of us," said senior Austin Nottelley. "We were a little underdog, but we're ready to go to the next level."

The football team took on Capital, every day proved not to be the greatest for the Bears with a 6-14 defeat. Northern still had more wins than losses to boast about, so they picked up the pieces and got geared up for their next opponent. Moments fell to the Bears on their own turf, with the Bears winning 14-7, and junior Chance Porter was named OAC player of the week. After a loss against Lakeland College, the football team finished off the season with two strong wins against Ohio, Ohio and Wilmington.

The Football team racked up a number of awards. Nottelley and senior James Kil were awarded Academic All-Ohio Athletic Conference. All-Ohio Athletic Conference winners included seniors Travis Ginter, Nate Dunnington, Eric Schroeder, and Leanne Fells, R.J. Meadows, Steve Gill, Porter, and Ben Williams. ESPN The Magazine named senior Nottelley and seniors Eric Wenzler and Pat Smith Academic All-District IV. Quarterback up the season well. "We certainly earned a glimpse of how good we are going to be in the future. Furthermore, we ended the season 7-3, which is a winning record that must be respected coming out of the OAC. We are excited about the future."

& leaving a legacy at ohio northern university

Nothing comes close to the Ohio Northern Men's Soccer team, which ended the 2007 season with a record of 14-6-2 overall and 5-0-0 in the Ohio Athletic Conference. The Polar Bears, led by senior captain Zach Huffman and senior midfielder Nick Farnwald, made Ohio Northern history during the season. According to Head Coach Brent Ridemour, the team beat "national powerhouse Ohio Wesleyan for the first time in school history."

According to Huffman, one of the goals for the soccer team this year was to win the OAC regular season "by working extremely hard in the off-season, spring season and preseason." Another objective for the Polar Bears was incorporating the younger players throughout the team, and "showing them what our program represents," stated Ridemour. Sophomore Don Olanow said, "It was good to see the progression of the team throughout the season and how people began playing for the team instead of themselves."

Among the other highlights of the Men's Soccer Team's Season was the preseason trip to England, Germany and the Czech Republic. Honors received by members of the soccer team included three players being named OAC Player of the Week: Olanow, Farnwald and junior Adam Ross. The Polar Bears are under the direction of assistant coaches Dave Krupp and Adam Gatten.

Good athletic skills are not the only key to a winning team. The OSU Women's Soccer team proved in their 2007 season that the teammates' attitudes towards each other can make or break a team. Forward/midfielder and sophomore Jessie Eibers explained that her team's strongest assets are our chemistry as a team and the individual skills and qualities that every girl possesses and brings to practice and games each day.

The team work and dedication of the Women's Soccer team paid off with an overall record of 10-2-2 and a seasonally undefeated record in the Athletic Conference record. The Lady Polar Bears had high aspirations for the season. "Our team goals were to win the OAC and then go on to the NCAA tournament," said head senior Baibie Krieger said.

The season did not kick off as smoothly as expected. Eibers said that the "rockies" start to being to "adjust" to new formation and players. "The team's unity turned the tables later in the season, allowing the girls to kick off an impressive seven game winning streak." Head Coach Mark Bateman explained that, even when some key players were injured, "it gave way to fan of our players to step into their role, and they have been tremendous."

The women's soccer team finished off the season before the OAC Tournament with a win with Baldwin ballfield and a 3-1 win against Capital. The Bears then entered the OAC Tournament held here at Northern. The women's soccer team triumphed with a 2-0 win against Wilmington in the semi-finals. Capital proved to be too much for the women's soccer team, defeating them in the finals with a score of 3-1.

In addition to their successful season, many of the girls on the team also won several trophies. Kathleen Saunders was named Golden Academy All District. Saunders also won the Academic All-OH Athletic Conference along with teammates Angie Ploest and seniors Laura Childers and Meggan Gibson. All-Ohio Athletic Conference was awarded to Ploest, Saunders, sophomores Stacey Barnhart and juniors Katie Schuchert and Erin Stapp. Four girls were named Ohio Athletic Conference Player of the week: Ploest, Eibers, Stapp, and Krieger. DeKloof from honored junior Emily Davies in her Team of the Week section. ## APPROACH. PASS. REPEAT.

gentleman runners on the track the competition

ONU's Men's Cross Country team proved once again that no others can compare to their strength and competitive spirit. The 2007 season was not only successful, but ground breaking. "The team earned the very first Men's OAC Cross Country title in school history," Coach James Mann said. "This team is very dedicated, and very driven."

The boys had a running start on the other Division III teams due to team unity. Junior Thomas Adam elaborated that "we are a very unified, fun-loving team that knows when to work hard and when to relax." The team's first achievement at the Tiffin/Hickelberg Invitational with a 2nd place win, but the Bears were just getting started. A 1st out of 18 team win at the Hanover (Ind.) Invitational was the men's 1st out of 3 invitational wins. The team's biggest win, however, was yet to come.

October 27, 2007 was a day put on the books by the ONU's Men's Cross Country team at the OAC Championship at John Carroll. Junior Paul Lewis said that the team "had something to prove after last year's one point loss at the conference meet." Prove it they did with a 38 point 1st place victory. Junior Jimmy O'Brien led the path to victory, followed by junior Eric Porter, Lewis, Adam, and sophomore Alan Rowshere. "The win was truly a team effort," Mann said. "From the first man to the last guy that is everyone's trophy. Everybody has put in the work to earn a part of that. No one can take that from them, and now they are a part of history."

Next the Bears traveled to Calvin to participate in the NCAA III Regionals. Lewis said the team's goal was "to walk into the regional meet the coming weekend and take second place." The Men's Cross Country team did just that. "That gave us an automatic bid to the national meet in St. Olaf where we were shooting to be a top-ten team in the country," Lewis explained. The team did well at the NCAA III Championships, placing 17th out of 32 teams.

Many prestigious awards were bestowed on the Bears. All-Ohio Athletic Conference winners included O'Brien, Porter, Lewis, Adam and Rowshere. Porter was named Ohio Athletic Conference Runner of the Week twice and Adam was given the title as well on September 17th. All-Great Lakes Region winners included O'Brien, Adam, Rowshere, and Porter. O'Brien was also named All-American and III's Cross Country Runner of the Year. What is ONU's Men's Cross Country's secret ingredient? Mann knows what it is. "This man's team is very close. They have a lot of fun and they enjoy what they are doing. I think that is what makes them so successful."

over the river & through the woods

The 2007-2008 Women's Cross Country team's hard work paid off this season. The season was strong from a 2nd place win at the Tiffin Heidelberg Invitational to a 14th-out of 31 placement at the NCAA Regionals in Calvin, Michigan. Freshman Amy Davis credits the team's success to their closeness. "We always run together and help each other out in practices and meets and encourage each other!" Davis elaborated.

In addition to team success, many of the girls found individual achievement as well. Sophomore Rachel E. Smith became the third-fastest sophomore ever to run for OSU with a time of 19:08 at the Knight Invitational. Freshman Amanda Hinkley also made her mark in the OSU school records, becoming the 9th fastest freshman runner with a time of 19:27. Later junior Regina Brosson and Davis became the 9th and 10th fastest 6k runners. Brosson also claimed the 9th fastest junior ever to run the 6k for OSU spot, while Davis became the 2nd fastest freshman 6k runner with a time of 24:10.

The Women's Cross Country team gained more recognition at the All-Ohio Championships held at Ohio Wesleyan, coming in 9th out of 12 teams. Davis and Smith earned All-OAC honors as well. Smith credits the ladies' success to their pack mentality. "We stand out as a team because we run in a pack. You are going to succeed when not only a runner, but a pack of runners can outrun other teams." After the NCAA II Regionals the ladies had an overall record of 7-12, and were 4th in the OAC. "I was really happy with the end of the season," said Smith. "We had a lot of personal records, and we ended on a really good note."

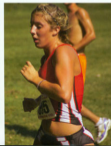

Girls that made it into the top seven runners during the season included Smith, Davis, Brosson, Hinkley, seniors Sharon Snyder and Katharine Pavellus, juniors Katie Andronjowski and Susan Hess, P3 Erica Hunschling, sophomores Rebecca Silverstein, Meghan Reynolds, and Stephanie Hiner, freshman Molly Eiderbrock, and P1 Almora Bachmann.

Unbreakable teamwork and dedication led the ONU Volleyball team to a phenomenal season with a 29-7 overall record and a 9-0 Ohio Athletic Conference record. "The main thing that made the volleyball team so strong this year was the common bond that all the players share," said sophomore Elizabeth Schnelle. "We truly can rely on each other on and off the court and all have the same goals and aspirations."

The goals the volleyball team were very specific, including "never losing on our home court, win the OAC regular season and tournament and go to the NCAA's" said Schnelle. The lady Polar Bears' future success was foreshadowed with a 9th consecutive season win at the OSU Invitational. Schnelle was named Most Valuable Player for the invitational, while junior Samantha Markham and sophomore Amanda Fought were named to the All-Tournament Team.

The honors kept coming as Schnelle was named AVCA National Player of the Week. After a defeat at the Washington Invitational, the Lady Polar Bears quickly picked up their winning spree once again, defeating Bluffton and achieving another perfect record of 4-0 at the Wittenberg Invitational. "The winning streak is what makes the ONU Volleyball team unique," said Fought. "Every team plays their best game against us, trying to end our winning streak." Vuyk, Schnelle, and junior Katie Weininger were selected to the Border Battle All-Tournament team. The Bears tied for 1st place with Wittenberg.

After defeating Mount Union, Defiance and Muskingum, the OSU volleyball team swept up another 4-0 record again at the Mount St. Joseph Classic. Schnelle was named Most Valuable Player of the tournament with an impressive 77 kills. A month later Weininger was named OAC player of the week.

The competition was crushed by ONU at the OAC Tournament, with the ladies winning all three rounds and claiming their 16th OAC championship. The girls then fought hard at the NCAA III Regionals held at Wittenberg. After putting away Webster and Hiram, the Lady Polar Bears fell to Wittenberg in the finals.

The ladies' hard work also led to senior Laura Vuyk, Weininger and Schnelle being named AVCA All-Great Lakes Region, All-Ohio Athletic Conference winners included Vuyk, Weininger, Schnelle, Markham and freshman Melissa Goodman. Goodman was named OAC Freshman-of-the-Year. CoSIDA Academic All-Region honors were given to Vuyk and Weininger, and both ladies along with Schnelle were named Academic All-Ohio Athletic Conference. Guiding the team towards victory was Head Coach Kate Witte and assistant coaches Jacque Strahley and Dr. Brian Hoffman.

You can see just how happy the Northern Stars are about Northern Stars Dance Team followed their mascot reputation by delivering consistently strong performances at all the Men's Varsity Basketball games. Captain Kristen McDowell and Assistant Captain Melissa Whitman oversee the season. Team members also shared leadership roles by volunteering to create the dance routines performed at halftime. "Each girl that choreographed a dance had her own style, which is something I really appreciated," commented sophomore second year Dance Team member Lauren Rattleff, explaining how being part of the team helped her develop as a dancer. Although plans to attend competition in March fell through due to bad weather, Rattleff stated, "In place of the competition we will be going to a Dance Invitational at Marietta College to help raise money for St. Jude's." The girls shared that nothing comes close to the versatility and dedication of the Northern Stars Dance Team through participating in the Homecoming parade, painting faces for children at the Homecoming game and performing at the Black Law Student Union Basketball

The GNU Cheerleading Team took to the basketball court as well as the football field, entertaining sports crowds with their well rehearsed cheers. Under the leadership of Kristen McDowell, Katie Whitney and Coach Heather Hatchings, both varsity squads worked hard to pump up Polar Bear fans. McDowell explained, "The cheerleaders spent many hours perfecting difficult stunts for the crowd to enjoy." The increased stunt difficulty from previous years augmented the performance quality and enthusiasm of the Northern Cheerleaders, helping them set the Polar Bear sports teams apart from the competition. The squad also took the time in the fall to host a cheerleading clinic for younger girls in the Ada community. Thanks to the efforts of Coach Hatchings and squad member junior Jessica Hakes, the young girls learned some moves to perform at one of the home football games. "It was a very successful event and it was a blast to interact with the younger girls," commented Whitney.

fierce competition

89-22 Overall and 9-9 Ohio Athletic Conference were the records the OSU Northern Baseball team left for the 2000 season. The young Polar Bears, with only five juniors and seven players, had a productive season, full of great moments and highlights.

The season kicked off with the Spring Break Trip to Orlando, Fla., where the Bears won three out of five games against Emory & Henry, Johnson & Wales, Ross-Holman, St. Vincent and NESCAC. The warm trip in the sun gave the team a boost, and the Bears migrated to Ohio to play their next wave of games. Their next victory was at the dual in Lewisport, Ohio with Manchester, where sophomore Drew Robinson homered in every game. The Bears' first triumph was against St. Francis with a 7-4 victory.

Major victory came next to the Bears at Baldwin-McKee where they dominated their opponents Baldwin-McKee with an 8-1 win in Game 1 and 8-5 in Game 2, gathering eight impressive strikeouts in the second inning of the first of the series. Another triumph was found at Capital, where the Bears came 7-0 and 7-0 in Games 1 and 2, respectively. Senior Mark Sankovich and Drew Wieland led the games with their impressive pitching while, Sankovich giving up no earned runs in his seventh complete game, and Wieland following suit in Game 2, not giving up an earned run in eight innings.

A couple of the OSU baseball players were awarded for their efforts. On March 31st junior Brian Hill was named Ohio Athletic Conference Player of the Week. Robinson was named Academic All-Ohio Athletic Conference, and he along with Sankovich and Wieland were named All-Ohio Athletic Conference. The Bears were under the direction of Head Coach Justin Bergman and assistant coaches Shaun Streawinger and Chad Donsbach.

diamonds are a girl's best friend

This year's Women's Softball team may have started off as a young team with little experience, but at the end of the season it was clear that the ladies were not inexperienced anymore. They gained experience and a great sense of accomplishment. Head Coach Annette Shepherd stated that the team really became a tight knit successful group that everyone contributed to. "This season, the team has really matured. We graduated our experience last year and this year we have had to really fight for everything we've gotten. It's really been a TEAM effort: from the pitching to the catching and hitting, running bases. Every single player had contributed and each person has had a key role in our team's success."

Led by Shepherd and Assistant Coaches Jeremy Shepherd, Les Bowman, Jamie Snee and Kacey Smith, the girls had a strong season under this leadership and finished the season with an overall record of 28-22, and an OAC record of 14-4. The Women's Softball team is a part of the Ohio Athletic Conference.

Some of the most notable players were Captains senior Abby Majoy, and junior Matti McFarlin. Also mentionable were team members that were that reached the 100-hit plateau this season. Among the list were senior Lynda Thomas, sophomore Tina Mangels, sophomore Liz Declina and sophomore Mandi Fought.

All in all, the team had a season that allowed them to mature, and it will most definitely be a season that will go down in the record book. As also stated by Shepherd, "This team has learned to 'work' every play, every pitch. The captains, senior Abby Majoy and junior Matti McFarlin, have done a tremendous job at leading the young and inexperienced players on the team. They will be sorely missed."

Men's Basketball Team Takes Charge

The Ohio Northern University Men's Basketball Team, under the direction of Head Coach Jeff Coleman and assistant coaches Dave Cox, Anthony Ghelissen and Clyde Pickett, ended the season 19-22 overall and 10-8 in the Ohio Athletic Conference. Senior wing Kyle Gebbe, junior post Jake Cannon and sophomore post Kyle Meyer were named All-Ohio Athletic Conference. Gebbe was also named to the OAC Tournament All-Tournament Team and the Trinity/Southwestern Holiday Tournament All-Tournament Team, along with being named Ohio Athletic Conference Player of the Week for December 17, 2007. He was also included in the Calvin Tip-Off Tournament All-Tournament Team. Meyer received the honor of Ohio Athletic Conference Player of the Week for February 13, 2008. Cannon along with junior post Leodanis Hamersmith, was named to the Trinity/Southwestern Holiday Tournament All-Tournament Team, as well as the Carnegie Mellon (Pa.) Tournament All-Tournament Team.

According to Coach Coleman, the team hoped going into the season to win the OAC and get a bid for the NCAA tournament. Unfortunately the team fell short of its goal, but still had a successful season. Meyer said his highlight of the season was that during "different times of the season we felt like we were playing pretty good basketball and having fun." Cannon enjoyed an away game against John Carroll University, which ended in a thrilling double overtime victory against the Blue Streaks.

Many members of the basketball team enjoyed the camaraderie with each other and relished the winning moments of the season. The team began the season with a tournament at Calvin College in Michigan and participated in several other tournaments throughout the season. One of those tournaments took the basketball team to San Antonio, Texas over Winter Break. One of the obstacles the team had to overcome this year included losing its seniors in graduation last season.

On the Offensive

From great team chemistry, to finishing 2nd in the OAC, it doesn't get much better than the OSU's Women's Basketball team. The lady Polar Bears had the best season they have had, it approximately twenty years with a 29-7 Overall and a 24-4 OAC record under the direction of Head Coach Michelle Durand and Assistant Coach Sara Tapprell. "We had one of the best seasons in the past twenty years-old years of school history," said junior Patricia Miller. "It was a great season overall and we have a lot to be proud of."

According to Pat Jennifer Markle, the team's goal was to "finish first in the conference and win the OAC tournament." This goal drove the OSU's Basketball team to success throughout the season winning 26 more to six games consecutively. Both Miller and Markle agreed that one of the biggest highlights of the season was defeating tough opponents Wilmington and Capital in the same week. The lady Polar Bears broke their 17-game losing streak against the Wilmington Quakers that went back to 1990. The Women's Basketball team kept their first place standing in the OAC by defeating the nationally-ranked Capital 71-48. During the game Markle became OSU's player-leader in three-pointers. Miller pointed out that they are "one of the best shooting teams in the OAC."

There was one of the season was a bit disappointing for the ladies. The team entered the quarter-finals, but lost against Mt. Union. Nothing could change the fact that the Women's Basketball team still had a fantastic season. Award winners included junior Alisha Kirtchert and Markle being named OAC Player of the Week and Kirtchert also being named All-Tournament Team. "Our team chemistry is very good," Markle explained, "and that is what contributed to our success on the court."

Men's Swimming & Diving Team Captures Fourth Consecutive OAC Championships Title

Dedication and teamwork are no strangers to the ONU's Men's Swimming and Diving team. "Even though swimming may seem like an individual sport, everyone needs to swim their best in order for the team to succeed," said freshman and OAC Champion Michael Schultz. Freshman Garrett Dauch also elaborated that teammates "all look out for each other and push each other to be the best we could possibly be."

The Men's Swimming and Diving team had their goals planned out well in advance. Junior Brett Kahn stated the goals of the season were "to be OAC Conference champs. Another one of our goals was to rewrite the swimming and diving record board." The team did indeed rewrite the record board with Kahn, Schultz, Dauch, senior Mike Anderson, junior John Miller, sophomore Andrew Stephenson and freshmen Cassidy Davis and John Pavesio all setting new records for ONU. Dauch credits much of the success to the team's inspirational head coach Peggy Ewald. "Coach Ewald spends so much time of her life in her office and on the pool deck for us that we cannot let it go unappreciated," Dauch said. "She literally would work herself to death for us." Head Coach Ewald along with Assistant Coaches Russell Harst, Tiffany Patterson, Sean Quinn and Justin Hickey all won the OAC Conference Coaching Staff of the Year award.

The highlight of the season for most of the swimmers and divers was the fourth consecutive OAC title win. Miller elaborated that "the win was one of the most dominating performances in conference history. We won by over 100 points. We've begun a dynasty and a tradition of excellence here at ONU." At the Conference, Schultz was named OAC Men's Swimmer of the Year, and won 6 events. Polar Bears Anderson, Schultz, Kahn, Miller, Stephenson, Dauch and junior George Chesney all took home the title of Ohio Athletic Conference Champions.

"Our final goal was to take a swimmer or diver to the Big National," said Kahn. This goal was accomplished when Schultz headed off to the NCAA Championships. Schultz finished sixth out of 22 in the 1500 free. Schultz's entrance into the NCAA Championships "made history because he was the first Men's Swimmer to make nationals." Kahn explained, "We are a National Caliber team, and there will be many more national qualifiers in the future with Coach Ewald's help."

The future looks bright for the Men's ONU's Swimming and Diving Team. "The Ohio Northern Swimming and Diving program is growing; we are young and gaining respect from new, very good, teams each year," Dauch said. "Respect was a main key to our success this year." Kahn elaborated, "At conference, you could definitely tell that we were not just the team to beat, but the team to be."

Northern Ladies Not Short Of Breath Maintaining 2008 Regular Season Title

As the Ohio Northern University 2007-2008 Women's Swimming and Diving team dove into a new season, the twenty-four ladies were ready to work hard to accomplish the goals they had set. The women practiced up to seventeen hours each week, for all but a few weeks of fall and winter quarter. They even gave up much of Thanksgiving and winter breaks. The girls were coached by Head Coach Peggy Esauld who led them through a successful season of 7-4 Overall and 4-0 in the Ohio Athletic Conference.

The team had only two upperclassmen, junior Robin Linkenhell and senior Samantha Huffing. However, the team consisted of sixteen sophomores who were ready to lead the pack in honors and accomplishments. Sophomores Trevi Lynn Shingle, Kim Randall and Katherine Moore along with freshman Hannah Bakewey had the honor of being named Swimmer of the Week throughout the season. At the OAC Championships fourteen sophomores from ONU made a major splash, placing in nineteen events. Bakewey, Moore, Randall, sophomores Jillian Huber, Fr. Lacey Shumate and freshman Cassie Fennell were named OAC Champions. "We are probably the most respected team in the OAC and it showed at conference this year," Bakewey said regarding the OAC Championships, "Other teams at conference actually got behind our lanes and cheered our swimmers on, but we also did the same thing too, with the other teams. We have great sportsmanship, and it makes me very proud to be a part of the OSU Swimming and Diving Team."

At the end of the season the ladies had accomplished many of the goals they had set months before. The team was once again Regular Season Champions and the women also placed second overall of only nine points at OAC Championships. Regardless of place they still broke multiple school and OAC records. An impressive eight girls were all named All-Ohio Athletic Conference sophomores Janelle Cain, Huber, Moore, Randall, Shingle, Shumate, Fennell and Bakewey. The team of friends and athletes ended a record breaking season with only one hope for the next season - to regain the OAC Championship title. Shingle looks forward to trying to "win the OAC regular season and conference championships, as well as personally break our own records and improve from the previous year."

Life in the fastlane...

...six first place finishes are a true testament to the speed, agility and teamwork indoors this year

The OSU Men's Indoor Track and Field team had a memorable season that showed displays of teamwork and support. Sophomore Jason Ankersman put it best when he said, "The team this year was so much more supportive and full of team spirit. Even members that were not competing came to support those that were. It was truly like a family." This may sound like any other sports team out there, but the OSU indoor team truly is different. Coach Jason Mann said, "The men had a tremendous season; they came together as a group with one goal in mind and put together an almost perfect piece to win the OAC championship." The "family" that the men created this year was, without a doubt, like no other.

In the Ohio Athletic Conference and under the direction of Head Coach Brian Cole and Assistant Coaches Mann and Jake Gleason, the men placed first in seven of the nine meets that they participated in. The overall record for the team was 39-2 with a total of 2634 points and an average of 187.26 points per meet. The first meet of the season was in Interstate. This was the OAC championship meet; the men's team placed first out of sixteen teams with 114 points. Many members of the team set records and this performance showcased the team's ability to accomplish great goals. Many men were mentioned several times during the year. Both senior Jimmy O'Brien and senior Ryan Robertson earned All-American Honors for the 400-meter dash and the long jump, respectively. Freshman Jacob Fox also surprised many when he qualified for the NCAA III Championship in the 55-meter hurdles. Sophomore Paul Metzner earned NCAA provisions and Sophomore Joe Armistead broke the OSU record for time in the 400-meter relay.

The teamwork and family atmosphere of the Men's Indoor Track and Field team no doubt helped them go as far as they did. It is true that there is nothing close to Northern; but it is also true that there is nothing close to the OSU Men's Indoor Track and Field team.

The ONU Women's Indoor Track and Field team had a season full of triumphs. The team pulled together to make a fantastic season as Junior Amy Swigert said, "ONU track and field shows exactly what it is to be a team. We start out as strangers and by the end of the season we've turned into a family. We're there to cheer each other on and we are there as a shoulder you lean on when times get tough. This sport takes a lot of dedication, but it is more than worth it in the end."

Under the direction of Head Coach Brian Cole and Assistant Coaches Jason Maus and Jake Gleason, the Women's Indoor Track and Field team placed first in four of the nine competitions they participated in at the Ohio Athletic conference. The overall record for the team was 54-11 and a total of 1321 points and an average of 146.78 points per competition. Some of the most memorable meets were at the "Friday Night Series." In 5 of these meets the women placed 1st 4 times. The women also showed a great amount of heart and they pulled together for the big finish in which they place 3rd out of 10 in the OAC Championship. One of the most mentioned players was sophomore Courtney Zupancic, who broke an ONU record for the shot-put.

The team did very well for being such a young team in which many of the women are in their first or second year of the sport at ONU. Fr Amy Swigert said, "The women's team is very young and talented; they stepped up to a lot of challenges this season, and surprised a lot of teams at the OAC championships. If this stays the trend in the up and coming years, there will be no stopping the ONU women's indoor track and field team!"

determination & drive

The ONU Women's Golf team proved to be a force to be reckoned with for the 2007-2008 season. The ladies achieved an impressive overall record of 201-19 and grabbed the 2nd place title in the OAC Championship with 707 strokes. In addition, the team was also ranked #16 in the Golf World/National Golf Coaches Association poll.

The Lady Polar Bears had a unique start to the season regarding how many players were on the team. "We had twelve girls on the team this year, which is more than we have ever had in the past," said senior Amy Gillen. "With this huge mix of talent our team is very deep skill-wise. This allows opportunity for inter-team competition, which makes our team even stronger, and prepares us for match days." The Women's Golf team's talented players showed their strength during the first eight matches of the season, claiming 1st or 2nd place for all of them. Guiding the team was Head Coach Stacey Hairston, who also powered the team's success. "Having Stacey Hairston as our coach definitely sets our team apart from any other OAC team, his commitment and dedication to our team on and off the course has really allowed our team to grow," explained Gillen. "His determination and drive for success has really motivated our team to reach our potential."

Many of the players' efforts on the Women's Golf team were rewarded. Senior Megan Brennan was named OAC Player of the Week on March 31st. Brennan, Gillen, sophomore Megan Russell, and freshmen Lauren Miller, Mindy Russell and Ashley Johnson were all named to all Tournament teams; some of them were even named more than once. Many of the women also broke school records this season. "I have enjoyed watching how much our team has grown and the progress we have made over the past four years!" declared Gillen. "It is amazing how much this team has accomplished in just four short years."

"When we play our tennis, no one can beat us." Senior Accounting major Kyle Webb could not have summed up the OSU's Men's Tennis team's 2007-2008 season better. The team was unstoppable with an excellent overall record of 18-2, and an undefeated 9-0 in the OAC. Thanks to the hard conditioning put out by Head Coach Glen Schenck and Assistant Coach Scott Wills, the Men's Tennis team was a tough hope for their competition to overcome.

The season was riddled with great matches all over the sport. "We've had some good conference wins as well as some good out-of-conference wins," said senior Creative Writing major Thomas Major. "We beat Wake this year, and Davidson (a perennial Mount St. Mary's foot Maryland)." In addition to winning matches, individual players have accomplished a good deal throughout the season. Major elaborated that "Micah Scott set the OSU All Time Wins record this year, and Bart Schenck joined the 100 win club after playing for only three seasons." All-Ohio Athletic Conference winners included Schenck, Scott, and juniors Chris Duboser and Ryan Paul. Scott was named Ohio Athletic Conference Player of the Week on March 14th, and Schenck was named Ohio Athletic Conference Player of the Week on April 7th.

One of the most exciting moments of the season was when the team earned their 2nd OAC championship by defeating Baldwin-Wallace 5-4 in the last match. Ironically the player who sealed the win for the Beavers was Paul, after he had sprained his ankle earlier in the season. Paul's comeback despite his injury set-back proves how strong the Men's Tennis team really is. The Polar Beavers were then entered into the NCAA III Regionals at Kennesaw where they won the first round but fell in the semifinals.

The Men's Tennis team has earned their triumphs. "We condition harder than any other school," said Major, "and we come out with fire for every match." Wills revealed one day of practice where "we conditioned for one hour in the rain outside before premeasured. We were one of the most prepared teams in the OAC." Hard work and dedication proved to be the main ingredients in the Beavers' unstoppable season.

Women Tennis Players Making a Reputation on the Courts A Fourth Year

Since clinching their first OAC championship in 2000, the Women's Tennis team has been a power to be reckoned with on the courts. After winning titles again in 2004, 2005 and 2006, the girls came into the 2007-08 season knowing that hard work pays off. Under the direction of Head Coach Scott Wills and Assistant Coach Chris Alexander, the team has held onto the OAC top spot with an overall record of 9-6-6 and 7-2 in the OAC Conference.

Returning to the team, senior Ashley Yontz captured her 100-win club and became the third all-time winner on the OAC Women's Tennis overall win list with her 128th victory over Muskegon. F3 Betsy Brichler and Ohio Athletic Conference "Player of the Week" sophomore Katie Gibbs also returned to the Lady Polar Bears for the 2007-08 season.

Having such a strong team did not stop the girls from going undefeated at home and building a strong fan base and fan base. "The girls really get along great. There are a lot of underclassmen who show great respect for the older teammates and look up to them for knowledge about tennis, sports, and life over all," said sophomore Jackie Hillis. Freshman Emily Banks added, "The girls have really bonded especially during our trip to Orlando for spring break. Everyone is comfortable to talk about anything particularly advice about improving a player's game."

The team kicked off its season with hosting the 6th annual Adkins Challenge and wins over local Northwestern Ohio and Bluffton University. They continued strong over spring break in Orlando with only one loss to Providence a DI from the East Conference. The Lady Polar Bears battled back on the road and at home returning on top with seven consecutive wins. The girls ranked up a big victory with a 7-0 win over rival John Carroll University.

Not only did the Women's Tennis team make major gains in their matches but were also recognized as a Scholar All-American Team by the Intercollegiate Tennis Association for the 6th year in a row.

FIGHTING IT

The Ohio Northern University Men's Outdoor Track team enjoyed a year full of great memories and unfortunate injuries. One of the best memories came from the Ohio Athletic Conference where the men's team won a small number of points away from achieving first place. The team members were still extremely proud of their second place title and what they have achieved within the season. "A lot of the team's success can be attributed to amount of depth in many of the events areas," said sophomore Brandon Pritchard.

The Men's Track team is filled with friends and leaders. One leader who was described by a teammate as their "coolest all leader in everything" is senior Ryan Robertson. Robertson was also elected to be team MVP for the past two seasons. The guys were coached by Brian Cole and assistant Joey Myers and Julie Glenison.

The coaches had a hard season with many of the athletes fighting some sort of injury. Although there were numerous minor injuries, there were two major ones that hurt the potential of the team. Junior Justin Liney pulled his quad and was not at his best for the remainder of the season. Julian Hargrett also not able to perform at his best after his hamstring injury.

Even though each guy had his own battles, the team was always supportive of one another, and even of the women's track team. "They guys were extremely supportive, even of the girls team. A bunch of guys came and watched me pole vault," said freshman Andrew Steinschulte. "It meant a lot to me to have them supporting me when they didn't have to. Both track teams came together really well and were supportive of each other. We were like our own family at Ohio Northern." The team always knew how to give together and have a good time. Instead of a bunch of track making many friend lines and bonds that will last past the season.

exceeding expectation

women track stars impress even in themselves this season

The 2002 Women's Outdoor Track season exceeded many of the expectations that were set for them at the beginning of the season. "My most memorable moment was when our team got third as conference, especially since we were not expected to begin that high," said freshman Audrie Stecherhude. The ladies were expected to perform well at the Ohio Athletic Conference, but were not expected to place third as a team. Most of the individuals did well in their personal events, working together to do their part and achieve third as a team. One person who did especially well individually was Dani Noy, placing second in the 400m, with the impressive time of 1:00.23.

The ladies found success in other events as well. The relay girls who ran the 4x400m under their best all-time projected time of 3:25.00, managed to better it themselves for the overall record of 3:18.00. Encouraging each other to do better was the actual slogan for the team who called themselves "Track Family." "Even though we had different team jerseys, we all spent a lot of time together inside and outside of track, some alone and some for each other whether it was studying, relaxing, or anything else. We helped each other out and took in huge motivation that could be better used and relate to personal life more than just track," said senior MVP and sophomore Courtney Fitzgerald.

It is no wonder the track members become so close. They spent about five hours a week just practicing together. But the team has loved about the participants. Head Coach Brian Cole and assistant coaches Jason Mann and Jake Gleason are obviously motivators for the team's accomplishments. As a senior, Janelle Jensen stood out to the coaches, and they awarded her the Coach's Award. This family enjoyed a first that year and will only grow with time.

One person who did especially well individually was Danielle Koss, placing second in the 200 run, with the impressive time of 2:49.

The ladies found success in other areas as well. The relay girls who ran the 400m broke their 2:20 all-time record, accomplishing this by teaming up to beat by themselves the records of the best of the best, encouraging each other to do better than their second attempt for the team who called themselves a "Track Dynasty." "Even though we had different team goals, we still spent a lot of time together inside and outside of track, as well as always being for each other, whether it was studying, personal life or physically. We kept each other out and there is a heavy support system that would be there, and relate to each other more, just from MVP and sophomore Courtney Fitzgerald.

This is under the track members' bonding section. They spent about two hours a week just studying together. But the topic has turned about the participants. Head Coach Brian Cole and assistant coaches Jason Mann and Jake Thomson are obviously instructors for the team's accomplishments. The manager Danielle Jensen stood up to the speaker, and they awarded her the Coach's Award. This family enjoyed a fun first year and will only grow with time.

The Northern

The Northern Staff 2007-2008

"Nothing Close to Northern" was as the theme of the 2007-2008 yearbook for two reasons. The first, more geographically aware reason is that literally, there is not much close to Northern. We all know and love the thirty minute drive required to go anywhere more exciting than Julia, but, the second, deeper reason, was that our university really is a unique institution that we think deserves recognition for all of its different aspects and accomplishments.

Leading the yearbook staff this year was Editor-in-Chief Angie Trifible, Design Editor Summer Hall, Photography Editor Igor Mierzwinski, Business Editor Susan Warrington and Copy Editor Julia Kropp. Many new and exciting changes came to the staff this year, including a new computer, Adobe Creative Suite III and two new cameras to help capture Northern moments more clearly and sharply. The staff pressed its normal annual duties, including yearbook distribution, drag shots, the photo contest and organization photos. We also changed select, traditional parts of the yearbook to give the book more variety, such as no single color scheme, and changing the "In the News" section to "Coming Soon" to alert the student body of all the pending changes that are transforming the campus annually, something we felt was more relevant to Northern students.

All editors were first-year editors, with the exception of Mierzwinski who returned from last year's editorial staff. Trifible knew this year would "definitely be a challenge," but also noted, "we had a great group, and pulled through." Hall could not wait to start designing this year's yearbook. "I wanted to come at the book at a new angle. After glancing through previous yearbooks I felt the book could use a facelift. I wanted something fresh, something that would really represent our university and its growth and evolution." To Warrington, being a part of the yearbook editorial staff added excitement to her p4 year. "I enjoyed being part of the yearbook this year. It was fun of being a part of it for my last year of college." Kropp wishes, as all copy editors wish, that "everyone's names and quotes are correct and accurate. It has been a pleasure and a great experience to write about so many events on campus, and to find out more about students at Northern through their quotes and responses to my questions."

We hope that you enjoy the 2007-2008 yearbook as much as we enjoyed creating it. Hopefully we have proved that nothing, indeed, comes close to Northern.
